Harlem Philanthropic Business Night

A unique non-profit event that links independent ideas with commercial creativity.

Networks, intrigue, Louisiana cuisine and cocktails. All this and more abound at the Harlem Philanthropic Business Night, a high-energy showcase of non profits creativity with commercial and business diversity.

The goal of the Harlem Philanthropic Business Night is to link the independent non-profit philanthropic community with the world of commercial advertising and promotions.

The evening-event held at the exclusive unique Louisiana fine dining fashion trend restaurant and lounge Baton Rouge in Harlem on September 27th 2006 with entrepreneurships and marketing opportunities over a soiree of business mixing and mingling.

BECOME OUR EVENT SPONSOR

As the Harlem Philanthropic Business Night enters its third year, we invite both individual and cooperate sponsors to help us provide the bridge between non-profits organizations and the independent commercial communities while empowering and celebrating the philanthropic era in Harlem.

As a partner helping to support philanthropic businesses in Harlem, you will play an essential role in contributing to the expansion of opportunities for many up-and-coming business philanthropists. At the same time, you will reach a large, young, successful, sophisticated audience to promote your company's products and services.

With over 200 organizations attending, we will raise the bar, providing increase exposure for participating businesses, philanthropist, audience members and sponsors. We invite you to join us in what promises to be a very exciting, rewarding and fun event.
